

Thank you for saying YES to 43,000 hungry children in Uganda!

As she begins to speak, Zeinab's gentle voice remains calm and steady. Listening to her, you'd never guess the depth of trauma she's experienced.

A few years ago, Zeinab's mother was killed in the fighting in Juba – the capital of South Sudan. Zeinab had to flee for her life.

The tragedy of South Sudan's civil conflict is that Zeinab's heartbreaking story is echoed by hundreds of thousands of others who, like her, are fleeing the war-ravaged country in fear. Right now, 3,000 refugees cross the border into Uganda every day. Almost 90% of them are women and children, and many are seriously malnourished.

With nothing but the clothes on her back and a few possessions she could carry, Zeinab arrived at Uganda's vast Kiryandongo refugee camp distressed... and desperately hungry. But thanks to friends like you, that wasn't the end of her story.

Today, the pain is fading from Zeinab's eyes. Her smile lights up as she expresses her gratitude for your compassion. "I want to thank the people who support us," she says. Because it's through your support that Zeinab is enjoying daily nutritious meals, as well as experiencing new hope in Jesus. She now knows how good a full life feels!

And she's not alone. Right now, you're helping say YES to 43,000 children through our Every Child, Every Day programme at Kiryandongo.

Of course there's still much to do. By the end of the year, there will be almost a million South Sudanese refugees living in Uganda. Thousands arrive at Kiryandongo each day, and the numbers are only going to rise as the recently declared famine spreads in South Sudan.

Sadly, new stories of pain are being written all the time. But with your partnership, we'll say YES to even more hungry children – ensuring that trauma and despair don't have the last word for these precious kids!

You're sharing Gospel hope at Kiryandongo

Thanks to friends like you, hungry children in 22 countries are discovering how good a full life feels. Yes, you're helping nourish their bodies and their souls, as together we share the Good News with those we feed around the world. Kiryandongo – Uganda's vast refugee camp – is just one example.

March brought a unique opportunity to share the Gospel on an unprecedented scale at Kiryandongo, as our teams pioneered a three-day outreach to feed the hungry, strengthen the Church and reach the lost. We praise God for the amazing response.

"We had a great crowd," says Rev. Jonathan Shuttlesworth, who preached throughout the campaign. "There was a terrific response!"

Thousands attended the rallies – with the numbers growing each day. Many people committed their lives to Christ, finding new hope in Him.

Our teams also delivered 14,000 coloured Gospel bracelets for school children, as well as hundreds of Bibles for church leaders and workers in the camp. Thank you for making this special outreach possible through your prayers and gifts!

Rev. Jonathan Shuttlesworth shared the Gospel with the crowds at Kiryandongo – and many gave their lives to Christ!

You can say YES to more hungry children

EVERY MONTH, GOD USES a very special group of people to feed hungry children in body, mind and soul.

Yes, thanks to our regular donors, thousands of the world's most vulnerable children are experiencing how good a full life feels.

Become a monthly partner today by pledging to give a regular gift each month. You'll help us feed more of the hungriest children around the world, and press on with effective Gospel outreach in places like Uganda's Kiryandongo refugee camp.

To say YES to hungry children each month through regular giving, please donate by Standing Order on the enclosed reply card or visit feedthehungry.org.uk today!

"It was an amazing time of sharing the Gospel to classes of over 170 children, sitting 5 to a desk, hungry to hear God's word", said Gwyn, "And hearing them sing gospel choruses in such a confined spaces still brings back vivid memories."

From Stefan to You

Dear Friend,

I don't know what your morning routine looks like, but imagine this...

You rise early, around 4:00 a.m. Gather wood. Build, light and stoke the fire. Fetch water. Mix the porridge. Get ready to serve food... to thousands of children!

I recently had the privilege of visiting the vast Kiryandongo refugee camp in northern Uganda. And I witnessed first-hand the labours of Feed The Hungry teams at our multiple kitchen stations there.

It's hard work! But have no doubt... it's so worth it!

You see, as these precious children come to us each day, they not only receive food, but also experience the goodness of God. They learn their life has worth not because of their circumstances, their possessions or their status – but because of the One who loves them beyond measure.

That's why your prayers and partnership are making such a difference at Kiryandongo and around the world. Through your support, Jesus is being preached and the Kingdom of God is growing – and the lives of hungry children are being changed forever.

Thank you!

Because a full life feels good,
