

A young boy with short hair, wearing a bright green t-shirt, is sitting at a table and eating from a large, bright orange plastic bowl. He is holding a small amount of food in his right hand, bringing it to his mouth. The bowl is filled with a light-colored, textured meal. In the background, another child in a light-colored uniform is visible, and the setting appears to be a school cafeteria or dining hall. The overall scene is brightly lit, and the colors are vibrant.
